Bowbells, N.D. native is a graphic designer for the University of North Dakota’s award-winning television show

Joy Jacobson brings visual communication skills to the television program, Studio One. The award-winning news show airs on Channel 3 in Grand Forks.

GRAND FORKS, N.D. — Joy Jacobson is in her first semester as an intern for Studio One, an award-winning television show produced at UND. Currently, she works as a graphic designer. “I love how much I have learned in only two months. The people and atmosphere are truly exceptional,” she says. As a designer, she puts together images that help visually tell reporter’s stories. Her work is used during the live television show as well as online.

In addition to being involved on campus, Jacobson also received the Presidential Scholarship, based on exceptional high school grades. She is a part of Delta Gamma sorority and the official student-athletic booster organization, NoDak Nation. She also works for UND’s school paper, The Dakota Student.

She graduated in 2012 from Kenmare High School and is the daughter of Wayne and Diana Jacobson. She will graduate from UND in May 2016 with a degree in communication with an emphasis in public relations. “I am not a hundred percent sure what exactly I want to do [after graduation] work at a public relations firm, event planning—there are so many options,” Jacobson says. She adds her internship will help in a coming career. “Studio One has taught me so many skills that apply to all areas of the professional world. Being a communication major, they will be especially useful in my future.”

Studio One is an award-winning news and information program produced at the University of North Dakota Television Center. The program airs live on UND Channel 3 on Thursdays at 5 p.m. Re-broadcasts can be seen at 7 a.m., noon, 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. daily and on Saturdays at 10 a.m. Prairie Public Television airs Studio One on Saturday at 6 a.m. The program can also be seen by viewers in Bismarck-Mandan, Dickinson, Fargo, Jamestown, Minot and Ray, N.D.; Minneapolis and Saint Paul, Minn.; Denver and Colorado Springs, Colo.; Winnipeg and Brandon, Manitoba and online at www.studio1.und.edu.
